Parent Commitment

Parents will make sure that students attend scheduled classes, sessions or consultations at Valencia Tutors. Students will be dropped from the program if parents do not manage attendance effectively and responsibly. This means that an absence must be called in, prior to a session. If a parent does not call in an absence for a scheduled appointment, this will automatically disqualify students from the scholarship program. Valencia Tutors understands that there are emergencies and unforeseen illnesses, but consideration of our teachers and the financial commitment by participating contributors must be respected. If illness and reschedules become habitual, students will be excused from the program and allowed to apply in the next round of applications.
